

APPLY TO BE A GU POLITICS FELLOW

Thank you for your interest in serving as GU Politics Fellow! The Fellows Program is the flagship program of the Institute of Politics and Public Service. If selected as a Fellow, you will be joining a distinguished group of colleagues who are dedicated practitioners in politics and public service.

To apply, please submit the following:

- Cover sheet. Complete the informational form below.
- Current biography and resume. Please submit a copy of your bio in narrative form as well as your resume that includes your professional experiences, associations, and affiliations.
- Proposed discussion group topic and outline. At the core of the Fellows Program are the discussion groups. Fellows run a 90-minute weekly discussion on a theme of choice for an eight-week term. Applicants should submit a proposed discussion group outline that identifies a broad theme as well as subtopics and descriptions for each session.

NOTE: There is no right or wrong way to do an outline. It is a framework that can vary in length, descriptions, and appearance. We've included a sample format to follow as a guide. Applicants should know that the proposed outline is a draft. The draft outline will help us understand the direction an applicant intends to take. Applicants are welcome to submit more than one outline.*

Please consult the “Becoming a Fellow” page on our website for application deadlines.

Please submit your completed application package to Jennie Fay, Director of Programming at jennie.fay@georgetown.edu. Please feel free to contact Jennie for more information about the Fellows Program.
